IN FOCUS: HARRIET, MAINTENANCE TECHNICIAN APPRENTICE, MINI PLANT OXFORD.

As a Maintenance Technician apprentice, my role entails shadowing maintenance associates to learn more about the equipment and systems used to build the MINIs. I also work alongside them to try and find solutions to issues as quickly as possible. It's fascinating to see how they identify and adapt to different issues, then solve them as quickly – and as thoroughly – as they can. Observing them do so has given me plenty of knowledge to then take back to my studies and replicate later.

I've learnt so much since beginning my apprenticeship at MINI Plant Oxford. The variety of opportunities I've been given has really helped with both my professional and personal development. All my managers have been supportive. They're always exposing us to different situations to further develop our knowledge. That way we can learn to trust our own instincts and gain confidence working independently.

Everyone knows that BMW Group is one of the world's leading car manufacturers, but their reputation for working with apprentices is equally impressive. The apprentices are always stationed with the best engineers so we can learn and benefit from all their experience, which is great.
